CPP EXPO Las Vegas Re-locates to Main Floor of South Hall in Las Vegas Convention Center

February 27, 2009 - Paramus, New Jersey – H.A. Bruno LLC, the organizers of CPP EXPO Las Vegas, the definitive Expo in the Converting and Print Packaging Industry, will once again co-locate with PACK EXPO Las Vegas and PROCESS EXPO at the Las Vegas Convention Center (LVCC) October 5-7, 2009. CPP proudly announces that the Expo will now be located on the Main Floor of the South Hall along with the Showcase in Packaging and the Containers and Materials Section of PACK EXPO Las Vegas. “Coming from the upper level of the South Hall to the lower level (Street level) will certainly enhance the Expo Experience for the attendees who are navigating the three hall show,” said Leo Nadolske, President of CPP EXPO Las Vegas. “Contiguously located next to the exhibit area where many of the converters and package printers will be exhibiting will be a big boost,” Nadolske added.

The three co-located events have proven to provide a full supply chain event which creates true efficiencies for both attendees and exhibitors alike. “If you can only go to one show in 2009, why not go to all three with one badge, all in one place?” said Nadolske. Immediately, you are now able to see the new CPP floor plan by going to www.cppexpo.com, click on Exhibitor or Attendee, and then click on floor plan. “We’re right in the heart of all the action,” Nadolske concluded.
